Do You Want Lower Taxes?

A new income tax guidebook published by the firm of Prentice-Hall contains an interesting little special section, in addition to detailed instructions on how to accurately fill out your tax return. This section is based on the exhaustive Hoover Commission recommendations on ways and means to eliminate waste and inefficiency in the federal government.

In 25 years, the booklet points out, the national debt has risen from $194 to $1,611 per capita, and taxes have jumped from $52 per average family to $442 a year for every man, woman and child in this country. And here, according to the Hoover Commission experts, are some of the reasons why.

Paperwork. Each year the government creates and launches 23 billion pieces of paper! A Commission recommendation adopted by the Veterans' Administration alone is saving more than $1 million annually. Much more can be saved.

Red Tape. Adopted Commission recommendations concerning government reports, forms, and other such matters are saving $5 million a year for government and $10 million for industry. Estimates say an additional $100 million can be saved.

Medical Services. In 1955, the government spent $4.27 billion for these. One adopted Commission recommendation has already saved $335.5 million and many millions more can be saved.

Transportation. Government-owned transportation competes with private transport. The Commission figures that a saving to the taxpayers of $151.5 million is possible.

Research and Development. Twenty-nine different agencies of the government are engaged in these activities. The Commission says that fewer agencies, better centralized could do the needed jobs for less money.

Inventory. Because of the government's poor inventory system, mountains of supplies, including perishables, pile up. One horrible example was a 719 months supply of canned hamburger, which has a "keeping life" of 24 months.

Records. Government records take up space equivalent to 7 Pentagon buildings. Adopted recommendations are saving $4 million a year and $46 million more can be saved.

The booklet then observes that one of the biggest reasons for the present state of public spending is found in government competition with private enterprise in all manner of fields—electric power, insurance, lending, warehousing, transportation and so on and so on. For the most part, it points out, these enterprises pay no taxes, pay little or no interest on capital investment, seldom charge depreciation, frequently do not include their directing personnel on the payroll, and in most cases do not include the cost of "fringe benefits" of government personnel.

Former President Herbert Hoover has said that, if we adopt the recommendations "... the rewards in reduced taxes could be very great and the rewards in improved services even greater." And he added this significant statement: "... the key to real action lies in the hands of the citizens."

Interesting Items of News Gathered From the Files of the Avalanche of 23 Years Ago.

23 Years Ago — March 14, 1935

In the election held Monday the voters of the village of Grayling approved the incorporation of Grayling as a fifth class city. The vote stood 246 in favor of incorporation and 101 votes opposed. From the list of 14 names appearing on the ballot for charter commissioners, the nine having the largest number of votes were elected as follows: A. L. Roberts, R. O. Milnes, Alfred Hanson, A. J. Joseph, T. P. Peterson, O. P. Schumann, C. R. Keyport, Merle F. Nellist, Emil Giegling. The newly elected members of the charter commission will now have to take up their responsibilities and draw up a city charter in accordance with the privileges accorded a fifth class city. Plans are in the making for a convocation of the charter commissioners at once and it seems to be the prevailing opinion that after the charter has been drawn up that a few weeks recess be taken in order to give the members time to think over the laws and provisions that have been tentatively agreed upon in order to assure themselves that they are correct and for the best interests of Grayling.

Mrs. Laura Sammons Welch is the smart person to select a new name for Spike's Beer garden. Her offering was "Keg-O-Nails". In her letter to Spike she said, "How about this for your new eat house — 'Keg-O-Nails'. Thus your slogan would be 'Visit Spike's Keg-O-Nails'. I think it is quite appropriate and decidedly different."

The idea struck Spike okay and Mrs. Welch got the $5 that was offered. State aid for the public schools of Crawford County, in the amount of $350, has been mailed recently to the county treasurer, according to an announcement of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. The total amount of the recent release to 77 counties is $1,643,000. The distribution represents advances on the 1934-35 Thatcher-Sias appropriation. While the total allocation is computed on the basis of $15,000,000, it is estimated that only two-thirds of this sum will be available from retail sales and liquor tax revenues by the close of the fiscal year. A total of $10,000,000 will make it possible to give each district two-thirds of its allocation. Districts able to finance their own school programs for the current year will be given their aid later in the summer.

Mr. Burke has been assigned to the entire county and it is expected that within the next month that he will call on every farm operator, obtaining information relative to 1934 crops and to the livestock owned by the operator as of January 1, 1935. This census should in no way be confused with any other census being taken in Crawford County. The agriculture census is not an emergency measure but is the regular census that has been taken every five years since 1840.

"GETTIN' OUR IRISH UP"

"Mrs. Flanagan," said the landlord, "I've decided to raise your rent."

"Ah, now," beamed the fair one, "It's the darlint ye certainly are. I war wonderin' how I cud raise it meself, sur."

Our wonderful Irish are noted for their wit, kindness and ability to protect their honor.

Next Monday is St. Patrick's Day. Whether ye drove the snakes from Ireland matters little... we know that many good things are attributed to him.

"Gettin' one's Irish up" is a way of saying that you'll take a stand on the issue.

We have to take a stand against the high cost of living. Prices keep pushin' up like bubbles in boiling water (with us in the middle). Increased shipping and labor costs are catching up with us.

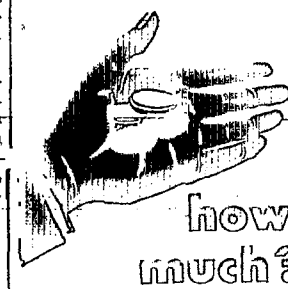

The best way to lower your overall food budget (besides shopping at our store) is to take advantage of the plentiful foods. Read our regular price ads before you shop the store. The plentiful-foods-are-promoted... this gives you a better value and keeps the food budget in line. Many other top quality buys are displayed around the store. Our regular customers know that our shelf prices are always in line.

Get down to the store often... laugh with the Irish and read next week's column. We'll give a little advice in the story. "Spring's Here."

AUTO INSURANCE LOSSES?

Fair Rates Are Essential For Protection of Public!

THIS IS WHAT THE CHICAGO DAILY

NEWS HAD TO SAY EDITORIALY —

AN IMPRESSIVE case for a further substantial increase in automobile insurance rates was presented last week to a zone meeting here of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

Some of the reasons behind this, reflect no credit either on our national common sense or our sense of fairness, but the fact remains that claims are multiplying in both number and size.

All over the country, the underwriters of this kind of insurance have been losing money. All over the country, the 1957 losses have been running ahead of the 1956 losses.

It was argued by important spokesmen at this meeting, however, that the Illinois experience is among the worst of all the states, and needs correction most urgently.

Rates were increased here on April 17th, but the increases have been more than offset by the rising claims. This was the first increase here since 1951. Since 1951, California has had four increases, New York has had four (another is pending), and Pennsylvania has had four.

It is important for the public, as well as the insurance companies, that the rates should be sufficient. If an insurance company fails, its policyholders are deprived of the protection they have paid for.

Among the factors contributing to the legitimate rise in the amount of damage claims is the design of modern cars. Time was when wrinkles in a fender could be ironed out for $5, and a half-windshield glass replaced for $12 or $15.

Nowadays, a sideswipe means an expensive body job; and a wrap-around windshield may run upwards of $100.

Time also was when everybody who got a bruise or a fright did not consider himself eligible to a bite out of the insurance company. Nor was he steered by some hanger-on at the hospital or police station to a lawyer who specializes in exaggerating such cases into a worthwhile fee.

With the increased volume of traffic, the number of honest claims has risen correspondingly. Every element of cost in compensating these claims is subject to the same inflation. Herein lies the real cause which the commissioners — who are state officials charged with protecting the public interest — made for higher rates.

If rates are chronically too low, insurance coverage is bound to be unduly restricted. If it is refused, or issued in inadequate amounts, to large categories of people, these people are not the only ones who will suffer.

People who may be injured through no fault of their own cannot then be properly compensated by those who are responsible for the injuries.

Broad and adequate insurance coverage is essential to the public welfare, and it cannot be provided indefinitely unless the price is high enough to pay for it.

March 3, 1958
Mr. Robert W. Strong
Crawford Avalanche
Grayling, Michigan

Dear Bob:

Have spent three months in Houston, Texas two weeks in Georgia, and am now in Washington, D. C., with my son, The Rev. James B. Shannon, Executive Director of The Church Society for College Work. His duties take him to practically every big College in the United States.

Have experienced every type of weather on the calendar. In Texas it was from 90 to 6 above and in Georgia it was terrible, 10 below and in Washington it has been more pleasant, ranging from 24 to 70. The houses in Texas and Georgia are not built for such cold weather. Gas heaters in every room so you burn on one side and freeze on the other, and get dizzy turning around trying to keep warm.

I am thoroughly convinced that we have the ideal weather in Michigan. It gets cold during the winter months, but your houses are insulated and otherwise built so that you can keep comfortable. From May to December there is no finer climate on earth, so I am headed back to God's country very soon. Please send my paper to address below for a few weeks, and I will then be back to "Shamrock Shanty" to enjoy the wonderful creations around Shu-Pac Lake.

Kindest regards and best wishes to you and yours.

Sincerely,
Dr. William T. Shannon

ly. But when these generous persons are forced to give up working with lads, few are thanked and many reviled for "quitting". All in one swoop the good done is forgotten and all that remains is "blame". And this from the other adults who are "too busy" to work with kids themselves! But the lads, the ones who count... they are grateful, they appreciate what has been done. Which I suppose, after all, is what really counts to the scout leader.

Prediction: a year from now the politicians in the United States Senate will be yapping at the administration to "do something" about a galloping inflation which will result from the pressures of these self-same men. I take of all inflationary controls of recent years to combat the so-called "recession". Another thought on the "recession" in Detroit. If you were an auto worker and Walter Reuther kept telling you that there was going to be a Big Strike in the Spring, would you, as a sensible person, buy a new car, a new refrigerator, or anything else that cost a lot of money and would require time payments? Certainly not, since you couldn't be sure that you would even be working at all on June 1. Threatening hourly workers with lay-offs and unemployment is the best way to know of to stop these same people from making purchases. When people don't buy, factories don't produce, there is REAL unemployment. Reuther won't tell you this, but ask any of his UAW members if they plan to buy a new car or appliance this Spring. When he says no, ask him why.

Tournament

In action in tournaments were: Grayling, East Jordan, Manistowish, the Boyne City Ramblers, also a contender. In the first rounds on Wednesday night, the Grayling Blue Devils squeaked past the East Jordan Blue Devils by a 49 to 45 score and the Manistowish Ramblers crushed Onaway by a 49 to 29 score. In the finals on Friday night, Grayling came up with a surprising upset over Manistowish by a slim margin of 59 to 58.

At the Petoskey tournament in the first round the conference champions, the Boyne City Ramblers, tumbled the Pellston Hornets 77 to 41 and the Harbor Springs Rams trounced the Charlevoix Red Raiders 77 to 65. In the finals on Saturday night, the Harbor Rams pulled a surprise 46 to 41 upset over the conference champs, the Boyne City Ramblers. Boyne had taken Harbor twice this season, both times on the margin of one point. This tourney win was very soothing for the towering Rams.

This representing the conference at the Regional Tournament to be held this week in Petoskey will be the Grayling Blue Devils and Harbor Springs Rams. Others in the tournament will be Roscommon and Traverse City St. Francis.

The WORLD OUTDOORS
By FRED BERNHART

IN MOST parts of the country the hunting season is over or else on its last leg. Regrettably, many nimrods are putting their guns back on the wall or in the cabinet. Some are thoughtfully examining their rods and reels and tackle boxes. Others will forget about the world outdoors until the next hunting season rolls around.

A few individuals, however, make the most of the "in-between" season from the end of the hunting season to the first warm days of spring that stir the fishing fever.

Crow shooting, for instance, is becoming an increasingly popular sport. All over the nation sportsmen are learning that these pesky rascals offer a challenge and the promise of excellent wing shooting. They offer a challenge because, while inquisitive and usually ready for any squabble, crows are smart and tricky birds not easily fooled.

Crow shooting is not easy, but neither is it too difficult. Success on a crow shoot will depend on two things: good cover and a good "caller." Cover is extremely important. A "blind" should be constructed of either a dense native to the shooting area so that it will not be conspicuous. It should be thick enough to break the hunter's silhouette, but not so thick as to prevent limited visibility in all directions. A good shooting hole and shooting position are important. At the height of action, crows may whiz over the blind from all angles and directions.

Crow will sometimes respond to even the most amateurish "calls" by a crow caller, but it is the experienced, practiced caller who is able to keep them interested and carry on the type of chatter that prevents them from becoming suspicious. Like anything else, success in crow calling is the result of practice and patient effort.

Bits O' Talk

Dr. John Harper Dawson of Adrian College, who spoke Sunday at Michelson Memorial Church, also gave a talk Monday at Grayling High School on the requirements for college entrance. A question and answer period followed.

Mrs. Lewis Sackett of Battle Creek spent the week end visiting the Arthur Carlson family.

While in Florida this winter Mr. and Mrs. George Griffith were called to Hollywood, Fla., on February 18, because of the death of Robert H. Klahn, well known.

While Bob Klahn was known as a hunter, he was even more widely known as a wildlife photographer and moving picture maker. Literally thousands of Northeastern Indiana civic and conservation clubs and organizations have seen his 16 mm. movies on hunting and outdoor subjects. From time to time his hunting and photographic trips won national attention, and a recent trip he made to the Gander River district of Newfoundland is featured in the February issue of Outdoor Life magazine. The trip was made with Ebb Warren, Michigan conservationist.

Miss Lillian Hoffman entertained the "Jolly Ten" Club at her home on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Lois Bradley Bates was the honor guest and received a gift from the group. Bunco prizes were won by Ruth Kernoskey, high; Lois Bates, low; and Grace Andrews won the lucky prize. The winners in turn presented their prizes to the honor guest.

Michelson Memorial Church News

Women of the Women's Society of Christian Service of Grayling were guests of the Michelson Memorial Women's Society at a planned potluck luncheon last Tuesday in the annual Visitation Meeting. Some seventy women of the two groups enjoyed an afternoon of fellowship at this annual event. Later in the year the Grayling Society will be guests of the Society at Mio.

Dr. John H. Dawson, president of Adrian College, addressed the Sunday morning congregation on "The Church Related College in Today's Society."

The Wednesday Lenten services are proving ever more popular and inspiring. The speaker this week is Rev. Colin Campbell, pastor of St. Francis' Episcopal Church, and next Wednesday's speaker will be Rev. Robert Erickson, pastor of the Baptist Church at Roscommon.

Next Sunday will be the annual Day of Dedication at Michelson and special guests at the morning church services will be members of the church school from the Junior through the Adult departments. On previous Sundays, the Kindergarten and Primary departments have been guests in the morning service.

Attendance pins for the month of February were presented recently to the following members of the Primary Department:

1st — Carlene Church, Bobby Thompson, Jayne Post, Steven Neilson, Johnny Horning, Linda Forshee, Gerald Annis, Richard Carlson and Candy Pond.

2nd — Gail Hunter, Marjorie Johnson, Marilyn Johnson, Sandra Jean Millikin, Sheila McWilliams, Louella Millikin.

First Quarter achievement percentages in connection with the Camp Program have been announced as follows:

Intermediate Dept. — Carolyn Halstead, Gary DuBois, Bill Moshier, 100%, Cheryl Pond, 96%, Donna Fenton 95%, Carol Gross, Carolyn Millikin, 94%, Senior Dept. — Mary Ann Engel 100%, Patsy Peterson 98%, Kathy Thompson 97%, Peggy Fenton 96%.

March 28th has been announced as the date of the March Cub Pack Meeting.

How To Sell What You Have

Editor's Note — This is the fifth in a series of articles as a followup on a talk given by Howard Somers, field consultant from Central Michigan College to the Grayling Business and Professional Association. Mr. Somers points out the necessary steps to institute a program to attract more tourists to this area.

The first step in your program is to find out more about your community. Talk with local people who may already be familiar with "who" has done "what" and "where" in your town. Try the State University, or your State historical society. When you uncover an historical local site or building, get your local tourist organization to discuss how it might be developed.

Your community's hidden tourist assets may be much more valuable than those on the surface. Be inventive in searching through historical records, and use imagination in appraising the community's natural or man-made tourist "come ons".

Start Improvements — Launch a face lifting program for your community. It needn't be a major operation, but may take the form of a clean-up program. Remove unattractive or dilapidated, ugly signs. Clear away junk and refuse. Paint your community — spruce it up. You might think about a flower planting program. Remember, a run-down, slovenly community keeps tourists away.

Another step — evaluate the accommodation you have for tourists. They want clean, comfortable living conditions. They want well cooked, well served meals in attractive surroundings. If they cannot find all this in your community, they will go somewhere else.

The Man Who Sold Hot Dogs

There was a man who lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs. He was hard of hearing so he had no radio. He had trouble with his eyes so he read no newspapers. But he sold good hot dogs. He put up signs on the highway telling how good they were. He stood on the side of the road and cried: "Buy a hot dog, Mister?" And people bought. He increased his meat and bun orders. He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade. He finally got his son home from college to help him out. But then something happened. His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio?" Haven't you been reading the newspapers? There's a big depression. The European situation is terrible. The domestic situation is worse. Whereupon the father thought, "Well, my son's been to college, he reads the papers and he listens to the radio, and he ought to know." So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders, took down his advertising signs and no longer bothered to stand on the highway to sell his hot dogs. And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight. "You're right, son," the father said to the boy. "We certainly are in the middle of a great depression."
